INTRODUCTION

This volume is inscribed to the remembrance of the ancestors herein contained.

PREFACE

After nearly forty years of careful research taken in the compilation of these records of family facts, and having been frequently requested by friends and members of the family to publish this assembly of records, advancing years admonish me to no longer postpone this duty.

The writer manifests grateful appreciation to the many friends who have materially aided in his work, and expresses especial obligations to Mr. Cassius M. Dashiell.

In this volume of records the genealogist may find something that is new.

To members and friends of the Dashiell family in general, the author ventures to hope it will prove of value and welcome.

From all readers he begs a generous indulgence.

For the future generations the record is here.

James (Da) Shiell, b. 1600, the Scotchman.

James Dashiell, Senior, gentleman, the immigrant of Maryland in 1663.

THE FRENCH EMIGRANT.

Jacques de Chiel, gentleman, son of Guillaume de Chiel, was born at Lyons, in 1575, three years after the Massacre of St. Batholomew, after the death of his father in 1595, and previous to the promulgation, in 1598, of the Edict of Nantes by Henry IV; he emigrated in or about 1595 from France to Scotland. The name Chiel then became Shiell. Jacques de Chiel or James (de) Shiell married in Edinburgh May 16, 1599, to Elisabeth Robesoune; he died about 1625.

IN SCOTLAND.

James (Da) Shiell, the younger, or James Dashiell, Junior, son of Jacques de Chiel or James Dashiell and Elisabeth Robesoune, was born in Edinburgh 1603-4, and married November 24, 1631, to Margaret Inglis. He married the second time October 17, 1639, to Jenet Aitkins, and died about 1645-50.

IN AMERICA.

DASHIELL.

James Dashiell, Senior, the emigrant, son of James Dashiell and Margaret Inglis, born 1634, in Edinburgh, Scotland, emigrated from Yorkshire, England, to Northumberland County, Virginia, in 1653. James Dashiell married in 1659 to Ann Cannon, daughter of Edward Cannon and Ann, his wife. James Dashiell immigrated to Somerset County, Maryland, in 1663, bringing with him his wife, Ann Dashiell; his son, James Dashiell, and his niece, Elizabeth Dashiell, who was nine years of age.

CANNON.

Ann Cannon the wife of James Dashiell, Senior, was born 1639, in Yorkshire, England, and was transported to Virginia in 1646 by her father Edward Cannon. Stephen Cannon of Stepney Parish, Somerset County, Maryland, was a brother of Ann and therefore brother-in-law to James Dashiell, Senior.

WILL OF ELEANOR DASHIELL.

IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN. I ELEANOR DASHIELL, of Somerset County being weak in body, but of sound and perfect mind and memory, considering the uncertatiny of this moral life and the certainty of the life to come and to be the better prepared to leave this world when it shall please God to call me hence, do make and publish this my last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say.

First I give and bequeath unto my daughter Eleanor I. Wailes my Carriage mare, provided she will give my grandaughter Cecelia Eveline Dashiell when she arrives to the age of sixteen a horse worth $100., I also give unto Eleanor I. Wailes one Cow and Calf one loom and the appurtenances belonging thereto, also I give Eleanor I. Wailes my floor Carpets—

Second, I give to my daughter Elizabeth Dashiell my riding Carriage and harniss to her and her heirs.

Thirdly, I leave my dear mother Priscella Dashiell a comfortable support out of my Estate during her life.

Fourthly, I give my grand daughter Cecelia Eveline Dashiell one negro man named Jack one ditto named Isaac one negro woman named Peg one ditto named Bridget and one negro girl named Lucretia. But it is my wish that Eleanor I. Wailes my daughter, should have the use of them until my grand daughter Cecelia Eveline Dashiell arrive to the age of sixteen.

I also give my grand daughter Cecelia Eveline Dashiell half dozen desert Spoons, one dozen Silver Tea Spoons, three beds and furniture two mahogany tables one side board one Clock one Cupboard one Walnut table one Stand, one new tea board, two waiters one pair of large Hand Irons, Shovel and Tongs, two pair of small hand Irons, half dozen Windsor Chairs half dozen flag ditto, one Desk, one safe on set of castors and all my Earthen Ware, one looking glass and all my pots pans kettles and kitchen implements of all kinds and all sorts also one Still and large Jug which belongs to the same and all the residue remaineder of whatever belongs to me, I give unto my grand daughter Cecelia Eveline Dashiell.

And it is my desire that should it please Almighty God to take Cecelia Everline Dashiell before she arrives to the age of sixteen, my grand daughter, that the several legacies herein mentioned should be equally divided between my daughter Eleanor I. Wailes and my daughter Elizabeth Dashiell.

And it is my desire that all my stock consisting of Cattle Sheep Hogs farming utensils and sundry descriptions, should be sold at public sale and tha money put at interest for the use of my granddaughter Cecelia Everline Dashiell when she arrives to the age of sixteen.

I also desire that the money which is due or my part of it when collected should go to pay my debts and the residue should there be any, equally divided between my daughter Eleanor I. Wailes and my daughter Elizabeth Dashiell and my grand daughter Cecelia Everline Dashiell.—

It is also my desire that my grand daughter Cecelia Everline Dashiell should have good schooling, taught to read and write and to learn the arithmetic as far as the rule of three, provided she has a disposition to take learning. And lastly appoint my friend William Wailes guardian to my grand daughter Cecelia Everline Dashiell, I also appoint him sole Executor of this my last will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by me made. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this twenty-first day of August Eighteen hundred and twenty.

OBITUARY OF ELEANOR JONES.

"Died in this town (Princess Anne) on the morning of 17th. inst. (March 17-1831) MRS. ELEANOR DASHIELL consort of COL. GEORGE DASHIELL in the fiftieth year of her age" The sphere in which the display of female virtues is exhibited is comparatively small. The various professions, occupations and employments of men, their extensive connections and transactions with each other afford to talant entire praise and Virtue many ways of elevation to eminence renown and admoration. But woman's sphere is much more contracted— Her history is short, the dutiful daughter, the fond and faithful wife, the ardently loving mother, the tender and kind relative, the devoted friend, the hospitable neighborbour, the entertaining and interesting acquantance, the benevolent Charitable and sincere Christian are the characteristics some or all of which render more or less conspicious in the domestic circle the amiable and excellent of the sex— "Along the cool sequesteral vale of life" They keep the noiseless tenor of their way." Through the narrow bounds of the domestic circle are the circumference of her sphere yet the effects are extensive, the duties incumbent upon her, are the most important. We seldom properly appreciate her worth until she is laid in the silent tomb. "We never know how we have loved till what we most loved has departed. On the subject of this obituary we shall make but few remarks, all who knew the deceased will anticipate them, she was worthy of uncommon praise but she is beyond it's reach.—What we shall say is intended only to benefit the living (which we conceive to be the proper object of the obituaries) by holding up her example for imitation. Her acquaintances will award her the character of an amiable and pious woman, of a wife, who was a pattern of fidelity, industry and economy, of a mother most ardently attached to her children, of a relative kind and affectionate, and of a neighbor hospitable and obliging. We commend her example to the imitation of her sex, and to her bereaved relatives and acquaintance we would say, "Be ye also ready"—March 21-1831.—Obituary as published in a Princess Anne, Md., newspaper.

COL. GEORGE DASHIELL A MASON.

He was an early member of Somerset Lodge #47 (#49) of A. F. & A. M. Masons, which was granted a Charter in 1811, he was afterwards Junior Warden of Salisbury Lodge #57 which was Chartered in 1815, On May 3-1819 the Grand Lodge of Maryland commissioned him Grand Inspector for both, Worcester and Somerset Counties—See Shultz, Maryland Masonic Records, Volume 2, pages 157, 233 and 285.

WAR OF 1812.

Col. George Dashiell was in the War of 1812, although nothing more than family data to prove the same service. His daughter, Mrs. Amanda Bell, always said that he was in the 1812 war along with Gen. Mathias Dashiell. Also this same statement was maintained by Mr. Benj. J. Dashiell, grandson of Col. George Dashiell, as well as by the Hon. Isaac D. Jones.

ISAAC DASHIELL JONES, born November 11, 1806.

ISAAC DASHIELL JONES.

(J-527)

Hon. ISAAC DASHIELL JONES, LLD., son of PRISCILLA EVANS DASHIELL and BENJAMIN ICHABOD JONES, was born at the homestead of his ancestors at Wetipquin, in Somerset County, Md., November 1-1806 At an early age he entered the Washington Academy, an institution of high standing in his native county and state—Here he spent several years pursuing a course of study fully as extensive as those enbraces in the curriculums of the most eminent colleges and here he was distuinguished as a youth of fine talents, through scholarship, (excelling in Latin, Greek and other languages) and of rare promises. Both before and after graduation he was employed as tutor and teacher, at the Academy, he divided his time, out of recitation hours, between an advanced course of literature and the study of Law.

In October 1832, Mr. Jones was chosen to represent his native county in the General Assembly of the State, and he was returned to this position in the years 1835, 1840, and 1866. In each of the sessions of the legislature he maintained a most conspicious part. At a special election in May 1841, he was chosen as the Represantative of the First Congressional District of Maryland in the Congress of the United States. In 1864 he was elected a member of the Constitutional Convention which was called for revising the fundamental laws of the State, and in 1867, he was called to serve a similar convention. In November of the same year he was elected to the office of Attorney General of the State, which office necessitated his removal to the City of Baltimore where he has since resided. In1878 he was elected by the Board of Trade of that City, Judge of the Court of Arbitration. When in Congress in 1841-2-3 Mr. Jones enjoyed the companionship of John C. Calhoun, John Q. Adams, Millard Fillmore, James Buchannon, Henry Clay and DANIEL WEBSTER (Whose friendship he especially valued.)

Mr. Jones was a man of great generosity. He educated a large nember of young people, who, otherwise, could not have obtained an education. Many young men owe their success in life to him, and the unfortunate ever found in him a friend. Through all the walks of public life he bore a name untarnished to the end. To know his duty was with him to do it. He was untouched by the self-seeking spirit of his age, unselfish and wise, noble and gentle, one more notable example of a splendid type of public men, now all too rare. He died of old age at his home, 234 West Hoffman St. Balto, Md. in his 86 year. He left a wife and one daughter. Died July 5-1893.

Note:—See "The Presbyterian Encyclopaedia," published in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1888. Also see Baltimore City papers of July 6-1893.

Mr. Jones married Dec. 2-1841, Miss Eliza Hays, daughter of Mr. William Hays of Baltimore Md. She died leaving no issue. Some years later Mr. Jones married Miss Georgia Sears Gelston, daughter of Col. Hugh Gelston and of Rebecca Gwynn Gelston, of Baltimore Maryland, (Col. Gelston was a prominent capitalist of Baltimore, Md. and the Gelston family were prominently known in England for several centuries, before coming to New York and New England prior to 1700) Georgia S. G. Jones, died shortly after her marriage, leaving one daughter, Georgie Gelston Jones.

Mr. Jones third wife, who was Miss Mary King Martin, daughter of Dr. John's and Rebecca N. Martin of Snow Hill, Maryland. One son died in infancy.

(Mr. Jones was survived by his third wife.)

WILL OF ALGERNON S. DASHIELL.

I, Algernon S. Dashiell, of Somerset County, in the State of Maryland, do make and publish my last will and testament in manner following, to wit:

First, I devise all my Real Estate to Isaac D. Jones in trust, to sell the same, in such parsels, upon such terms, upon such notice and at such time as he may deem most advantageous; and when the purchase money shall be collected, in trust, to pay to my wife Susan E. J. Dashiell one sixth thereof in lieu of her dower in said estate and in trust to pay the residue, after deducting expenses of sale, to my executors, to be merged in my personal estate.

Second, After my debts shall be paid, I bequeath to my daughter Mary, four hundred dollars for the purpose of her education, and to my daughter Clara, three hundred dollars, for her education to be applied by Isaac D. Jones, whom I hereby appoint to be guardian to my said daughters Clara and Mary, as he shall deem most advantageous for my said daughters.

Third, I bequeath to my Wife, Susan E. J. Dashiell, my negro woman Susan, who was given to her by her father, and also all such articles of household furniture as she may claim as having been purchased by her.

Fourth, I direct my Executor to sell such of my negroes as they may deem advisable upon such terms as they may approve.

Fifth, I desire my wife Susan to have her legal share of my personal estate in addition to what I have herein bequeathed to her.

Sixth, I give, devise and bequeath all the residue of my estate to be equally divided between my four children, Benjamin Robert Dashiell, Samuel Tubman Dashiell, Clara Georgie Dashiell and Mary Maria Dashiell.

Lastly, I appoint my wife Susan E. J. Dashiell and my friend and Brother Isaac D. Jones, executors of this my last will and testament. In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my seal this 8th day of October, 1859.

Obituary: Died at the residence of her father in this town, (Princess Anne) on Friday morning the 20th. inst. ( ) Mrs. Eliza Anne J. consort of Dr. L. W. Ballard of this place: in the twenty fourth year of her age.....
"Soft as the memory of buried love, Pure as the prayer which childhood wafts above," was she.

Eliza no more! The cloud of death had obscured that "beam of light" from our mortal view, but doubtless She shines with increased brillianancy in the regions of endless bliss. Short was her course on earth; for kindred spirits in celestial glory awaited her arrival among them with the gladness of hopeful solicitude. She was like a metor of beautiful brightness viewed with joy, contemplated with admiration, and whose sudden dissapearance is followed by a calm and peaceful but deep felt sorrow. How bright and joyous was the morning of her youth: how full of hope: how elated with anticipations: and who had brighter prospects? With a beautiful and graceful form, with an unassuming but attractive mein, with a mind naturally endowed with faculties of superior excellence, and highly improved by all the accomplishments of art with music, Painting and Poetry attending her as the three graces who had fairer prospects? Who had more well founded hopes of a life surrounded by such personal and intellectual enjoyments as is proper to rational nature? But, alas! who have realized the visions of youth? Who have viewed with the natural eye the scenes painted by the phantasies of imagination? Or rather, who have not learned from actual experience how vain and illusory are the schemes of youthful fancy compared with the realities of practical life. But why dwell on the variety of youthful hopes? At the time they are attended with pleasing associations, though in the course of events, they are either dissapointed by time or cut off by death. Then why repine—our loss is Eliza's gain? Though her hopes of happiness were not realized here she fell an early victim to the ravages of a relentless malady. Yet we infer from the innocence, purity and piety of her life, that she will find a happy relief from the troubles of time in the joys of Heaven, in the immediate presence of her Redeemer. Can the sceptic cavil or doubt on the immortality of the human soul? Could he view the youthful beauty of Eliza? Could his ears drink the sweet melody of her voice accompanied by the harmony of art? Could he view nature's landscape so perfectly represented by her fair hand, could his intellectual nature contemplate the literary and moral excellence of her poetry, and the extreme tenderness and sensebility of her nature, so utterly unsuitable to this cold hearted world and then suppose that the omniscient diety would have created a being of such superior endowments to be annihilated as it were in the twinkling of a star. Impossible!! Reason revolts from the idea and joins Revelation in declaring the Soul's immortality it is affections consoling thought, it is Friendship's best solace for the absence of the beloved that those powers of mind which elicited our admiration and secured our respect and esteem are only transferred to the mercy of God, to a sphere not only of heavenly happiness but of enlarged exercise, where relieved from the encumberances of mortality and infinitely improved by the joys of heaven they are now employed in praises of creative might and redeeming love in the presence of the God omnipotent. But even those consolations are only the "joy's of grief". For thoguh her pure spirit has winged it's flight up to that unclouded blaze, that heavenly radiance of eternal light, in which enthroned, she now with pits sees." "How frail how insincere how slight is every mortal bliss", yet the heart of friendship must throb with sorrow when it reflects upon it's own irreparable loss—sacred be the memory, thou beam of light, tranquil thou rest, thou shade of the departed Eliza.

"No pearl ever lay under Omaris green water,
More pure in it's shell then thy spirit in thee"—Princess Anne newspaper.

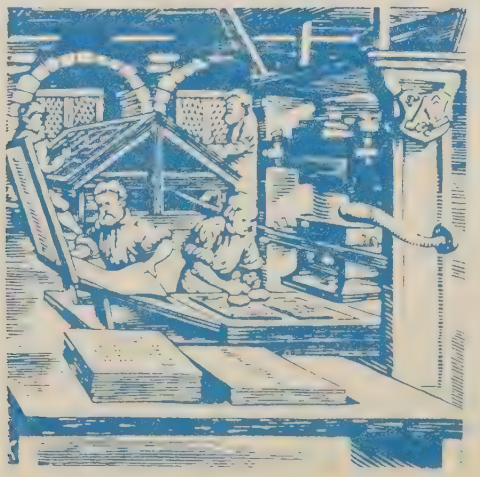
COLOPHON


The Dashiell three volume genealogy was printed in the workshop of Glen Adams, which is located in the quiet country village of Fairfield, southern Spokane County in Washington State and one township removed from the Idaho line. The work was accomplished by dismantling a set of the three original books, published with different year dates, getting the pages down flat so they could be photographed. Photography/darkroom work was by Marilyn McDowell using a 20x24 inch DS (Japanese) computer driven camera. The film was developed with a 25 inch LogE automatic film developing machine. The film was stripped by Marilyn McDowell. The printing plates were made by Pat Nigh. The sheets were printed by Vern Stevens using a 28 inch Heidelberg press, Model KORS. Folding was by Garry Adams using a three stage Baum Dialmatic folding machine. Assembly was by the Ye Galleon Crew. The paper stock is 70 pound Arrow Offset. Hard case binding is by Willem Bosch of Oakesdale, Washington. The books were sewn by Heidi Doneen using a National book sewing machine. This was a fun project. We had no special difficulty with the work.
